Full Development of Railways Would Solve Transport Problem

Jerusalem POST Reporter. — The full development of the railways will solve Israel's land transport problems, the Director General of the Ministry of Transport, told a press conference in Jerusalem on Friday. He also announced that construction of the line to Be'er Sheva will start today.

Even with the existing equipment the railways could carry twice as much freight as they now do, Mr. Shind said. His Ministry was starting a campaign to urge greater use of the rails. A committee has been established, he said, to direct the shipment of more freight by train. Railway freight transport between towns and cities will also be extended.

A three-year expansion program includes the development of existing lines and the construction of the route from Be'er Sheva to Karmiel.

A station is to be built in the center of Tel Aviv, and is to be ready for use in 15 months. The Ministry is now negotiating the purchase of more modern passenger wagons. When they arrive seven trains will run the Haifa-Tel Aviv route in each direction; four trains will serve the Haifa-Jerusalem line. The Ministry has already ordered 215 freight cars from Belgium and 30 special wagons for the transport of phosphates and other heavy minerals.

The construction of the line from Haifa to Be'er Sheva is scheduled to be completed about 15 months. The line will then be extended to Karmiel which will serve as the central loading station for Potash and Neguv minerals. The equipment for the construction of this 200-kilometer line will be obtained from the German reparations, from the U.S. grant-in-aid and from foreign loans.

Reasons for Increase
Mr. Shind explained the reasons for granting the 25 per cent increase of Karmiel fares. Fuel prices had risen by 61 per cent. The cooperative new pay for the I.L.-41 rate to buy tires, spare parts and new buses. A 25 per cent increase is needed to prevent them running at a deficit. Based on the other hand, agreed to reduce by 10 per cent the salaries paid to its members — from IL.400 to IL.300.

In connection with the request for raising of fares on the Dan line, calculations are now being made on the basis of a 10 per cent increase in such a way that lines running to new immigrant quarters or settlements should have their fares increased least.

The policy of the Ministry is to provide tires and spare parts first of all for the transportation. The import of cars under the "non-payment scheme imports" and as gifts will be stopped.

Truck Driver Tried On Manslaughter Charge
TEL AVIV, Saturday (Times). — Melach Tzipori, 33, a Tel Aviv driver, denied charges of the manslaughter of Daniel Sussloff and Rahamim Sekel and injuring Shlomo Daniel, when he appeared before the District Court charged with the murder of the two men.

Tzipori, who was accused of killing the two men when he drove his tender at great speed along the Salameh Road last June, said that he did not remember a thing, not even that he had been driving that night, because he had been drinking heavily with friends that day.

ISRAELI ALI ABU GHOSH, 32, reported to the police on Friday that he had been robbed of his car, a 1952 Ford, early that day, when he was driving heavily with friends that day.

Athens Beats T.A. Selected 3-1

TEL AVIV, Saturday. — The Athens soccer team beat a Tel Aviv area Selected team 3-1 today. Half-time score was 1 to 0. The farewell game of the Athenians will be played on Tuesday against a Haifa Selected side. The visitors will leave for Lydda Airport the next day.

The Greek team played in the same composition as in their first game, but their defense seemed to have learned a lesson from Wednesday's 5-0 defeat. The local defense, on the contrary, was extremely weak. The game, a very spirited one, was played before 10,000 in the Jaffa Hapoli grounds.

In the 20th minute, Greek inside left Karamas shot through past back Shmulevitz and scored. The score was tied shortly after the start of the second half by outside left Mirimovich, who received the ball from inside left Stojanovich.

Three minutes later the Greeks led again, after inside right Skodilis put the ball through past back Shmulevitz and scored. The final goal was taken by outside left Stojanovich, who received the ball from a 20-metre penalty shot. For the last 15 minutes the game was very lively. Dori Rabinoff refereed.
